BODIEN, MAYOR TANGLE AGAIN ON BRUNSWICK WORK RESPONSIBILITY

"You'll hear from me later."

These were the departing words of Arthur Bodien, president of the newly-formed Better Government for Daly City group, following a sharp verbal exchange between himself and Mayor Verducci at Monday's council meeting.

Bodien, before a crowd of about 100 persons, arose near the close of the unusually placid meeting to demand that Verducci give him an answer to a recent statement that Bodien, as former head of the street department, allowed the expenditure of $100,000 to go through for extension of Brunswick street.

Verducci made the statement early this month in answer to a variety of charges levelled on the city administration by Bodien and the Better Government group recently.

Explain Loss

After speaking briefly on other city projects, Bodien addressed the mayor, "I want something for the benefit of me. I want you to explain the Brunswick street extension loss of $100,000."

The mayor asked, "At the time the Brunswick job was started, what was your capacity?"

"Superintendent of the water department," Bodien replied.

"What about the streets?" the mayor continued.

"On repairs," Bodien answered.

The mayor snapped back, "You were official head of the street department. Were you consulted on this job?"

"No," Bodien countered.

"Did you protest the Brunswick job?" Verducci further queried.

Again Bodien answered in the negative.

"As the only paid employee on this project, you should have known about it. You should have gone on record to the council if the project were good or bad," the mayor retaliated.

"You had a superintendent of

WILL RESUME OLPH BOXING AT REC BUILDING

The Our Lady of Perpetual Help church Men's club sponsored boxing bouts at the Daly City community center will probably be resumed next month.

Request to conduct the amateur boxing program was approved by the recreation commission Tuesday night.

The application, from Walter Gillies, asked for use of the center October 27, but the commission said this date would have to be changed because of a prior committment.

It is expected, however, that the Men's club wil pay a higher rental fee than the $75 per month charge in effect when the boxing program ended last spring.

Jim Mason, recreation director, said the commission would hold a special meeting Tuesday night to set up a rigid schedule for rental fees at the center.

The OLPH group reportedly discontinued the program because of the heavy expenses, among which was the rental fee. Under the higher fee, however, Mason said the city would take care of setting the building up for the bouts.

Despite some controversy last spring on use of the center for profit-making events, the commission unanimously approved OLPH's application for use of the building.

Mason announced to the commission Tuesday the work-projects schedule for this year.

The following work is scheduled to start this year: Fencing, landscaping front, blacktopping back and painting at 101 Parkview; painting Peoria recreation building; completion of bottom floor of community center, with exception of kitchen; interior work at Bellevue hall; installation of basketball, volleyball courts at Frankfort, including tiny tot and grass area.

CENTER USE FOR OFFICES ARGUED AGAIN

City Manager Howard Stites told an audience assembled at the council chambers Monday night that use of recreation buildings as temporary sites for city offices "was a very common practice when the facilities are not being used."

He said such practices were purely for economy, and that to use the recreation facility permanently for office space would be a "bad policy."

Paul Selmi, city treasurer and member of the Better Government for Daly City group, which has attacked the city's use of the community center for office space, said that the ordinance setting up the bond issue for the building specifically said the building was only be used for recreation.

"The people voted in the bonds for use on recreation purposes only," Selmi declared.

City Attorney Frank Blum said, "As a legal question, I say the building can be used for office space in its unfinished condition."

Selmi retorted, "That's only the opinion of the city attorney."

Herman Kalinin, another member of the Better Government organization, asked the council where the money would come from to finish the community center.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said it would be impossible to finance completion of the project through issue of bonds, and that the work would have to be carried out through year-to-year budget allocations by the council.

Verducci added that, "Anybody who thinks we're not for recreation is mistaken. Our ratio of

Irate Parents Object To Double Sessions At Marathon Elementary Board Meet

DEBBIE, pedigreed Dalmation belonging to Fireman Wayne Alexander and his wife, 1045 Brunswick street, will do her part for this year's observance of fire prevention week October 9-15. One of Debbie's five pups remaning from a litter of 13 will be awarded to the eighth grade student who prepares the best poster proclaiming the purpose of fire prevention week. The award is particularly appropriate, since Dalmatians have always symbolized fire departments.

COMPLETE 22-ITEM AGENDA AT 1:20 A.M.

Angry parents with children on double sessions were forced to wait until the wee hours Thursday morning, September 29, to question the Jefferson Elementary school district board of trustees at their regular meeting. Only a few members of the audience stuck it out through the 22-item agenda "marathon" which was completed at 1:20 a.m.

The 20 minutes after 1 a.m. were taken up with discussion by the board on ways to avoid the long, drawn-out sessions. Two suggestions were offered but were tabled until the next meeting on October 26.

Suggested remedies are:

1. Trustee Katherine Mullen's plan that the board schedule two meetings a month and that time limits be placed on each meeting.

2. Chairman Michael Callan's proposition that time limits be placed on each item of the agenda in order to avoid unnecessary conversation.

Objection to Callan's suggestion was immediately forthcoming from Trustee Hartley Appleton who argued that the board "has a job to do and they should do it." A few minutes later, Appleton objected to Mrs. Mullen's plan by explaining to the remainder of the board that "my time is taken up by social committments and family life."

"Are We Alert?"

"But are we alert at this time in the morning?" Mrs. Mullen retorted.

Appleton replied that the clock didn't bother him.

Another objection to the long meetings was presented by Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, who

ENTER PLEA TO SAVE LOCAL BAND

Ways and means to "save" Daly City's municipal band will be discussed Monday night at city council study session.

George Brenner, director of the local band for 30 years, made a plea to the council Monday to set aside sufficient funds to finance concerts for two or three major municipal functions each year.

He said the band now had $625, which they would turn over to the city treasury if the council could add approximately an equal amount to it.

Brenner said the money was needed to pay professional musicians.

James Mason, recreation director, explained that he had not asked money for the band in his department request because the allocation might have handicapped other important programs.

Two Drunk Driving Arrests In 1 Hour For Broadmoor Cop

Broadmoor police officer George Carleton made two arrests on charges of drunk driving within a one-hour period Tuesday night.

The first alleged violator was spotted by Carleton at 11:30 p.m. Carleton said Clinton Reilly, 46, of 2007 Birch avenue, San Carlos, was driving his car in an erratic manner as he proceeded north on Junipero Serra boulevard.

After Reilly had weaved off the road on to the shoulder, Carleton stopped him at 90th and Junipero Serra. Reilly, a laundry equipment salesman, was released on $263 bail and scheduled to appear in municipal court October 6.

One hour later Carleton saw an auto weaving back and forth as it travelled west on 87th street. As he pulled the car over, Carleton said he observed the driver attempting to switch places with his passenger.

Booked on a charge of drunk driving and driving without a license was Miguel Delgado, 19, a Marine private stationed at Treasure Island. His companion, Marine Sgt. Clarence Botts, 23, of the same base, was charged with being drunk in an auto. Delgado posted bail of $263, while Botts posted $50. Both will appear in municipal court October 6.

Peninsula Bus Asks No. 56 Run

A request to extend passenger service from Colma to Daly City was submitted to the state public utilities commission Monday by Peninsula Bus Lines.

Peninsula Bus Lines, now operating from South San Francisco to the cemeteries in Colma, proposed to extend its service through Daly City, where it would connect with San Francisco's Municipal Railway at Mission street and San Jose avenues.

The line would take place of the No. 56 Muni bus, which will be abandoned as soon as a replacement is found, according to San Francisco board of supervisors.

The Peninsula company said it would operate on a half-hour schedule from 6 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. weekdays, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays and holidays.

Fare within the Daly City limits would be 15 cents, while charge for trips south of Colma would be 25 cents.

Date for public hearing on the application has not yet been set.

Set Fire Prevention Week Observance Here October 9-15

The oldest of all special seven-day observances, "Fire Prevention Week," will be heralded in Daly City October 9 through 15 with a variety of activities and educational programs, announces Chief Elmer Kennedy.

"Don't Give Fire A Place To Start," is the slogan for this year's campaign, officially endorsed by President Eisenhower in a proclamation.

Sponsored by the National Fire Protection association in cooperation with the International Association of Fire Chiefs, the campaign will be aided by the local Chamber of Commerce, North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association, veterans organizations and Fraternal Order of Eagles.

"The week-long program will emphasize the need for greater personal fire safety and among the events planned are contests, fire drills and other activities in the schools," according to Kennedy.

A fire prevention demonstration will be given for the Eagles on October 6.

Inspections will be conducted in the commercial area during the week's observance.

Hilltop Liquor Case Continued One Week

Hearing scheduled Thursday, September 29, on writ of mandamus asking withdrawal of the liquor license revocation order against the Hilltop Lodge was continued until October 6 in Judge Edmund Scott's Superior Court, by mutual consent of the attorneys.

Owners of the Lodge, 22 Hillcrest drive, represented by Attorney John J. Fahey, have asked that the September 2 revocation ruling by Russel S. Monroe, state director of alcoholic beverage control, be set aside. Judge Scott issued a writ demanding that the department waive the revocation or show cause why it should be invoked. Next Thursday's hearing will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Marcus Tot Is Brought Home Here

Mrs. Sanford Marcus came home to Daly City yesterday for the second time this week.

But yesterday's homecoming was in dramatic contrast to that of Monday, when the 29-year-old mother was brought to a house that was missing the most important thing in her life on that day—her infant son, Robert, stolen from a crib at Mt. Zion hospital on September 19.

Photographers crowded around the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus yesterday to pictorially record the joyous event, as young Robert was brought home for the first time to the new residence at 40 Northgate in Daly City's Westlake subdivision.

Also on hand to greet the elated couple were their two other children, Richard, 3, and Susan, 2, and Dr. Marcus' brother, Dr. Irwin Marcus, and his wife, Sonia, of Burlingame.

Dr. Irwin Marcus was at the home Monday when all the spanking new baby things had to be removed from the nursery to the

DYKMAN, THREE AIDES RESIGN COAST DA JOBS

Melvin Dykman, native Daly City resident and formerly a practicing attorney here, was among four deputies of Santa Cruz District Attorney L. Moore Jr. who submitted their resignations Monday.

Dykman, son of John Dykman, 196 Wellington, and well-known in this area, resigned, along with the three other deputies, with the statement that, "A basic difference of opinion as to what course of conduct will best serve the public interest" existed between them and Moore.

Moore, 28-year-old former San Franciscan who was elected last year on a "clean-up" program, declined to comment on the mass exodus of his aides.

Dykman, 32, took the post in the attorney's office on January 2 of this year. At that time he was associated with the local legal firm of Blum and Gallen.

Speculation around the Santa Cruz court house was varied as to the reason for the resignations. Some said the four deputies objected to Moore's frequent public statements and controversial activities, while another observer maintained that the rift came after an intra-office conflict between Moore's confidential secretary, Jinx Rush, and some of the deputies.

Brick Wall Fails To Dent DC Motor Scooter Driver

A local gas station owner suffered only minor injuries Friday night when he careened into a brick wall at 50 Flournoy street on his motor scooter.

Treated at Junipero Serra hospital for superficial wounds was Leonard R. O'Neil, 31, 1628 Shoreview, San Mateo. O'Neill is the owner of a gas station of 6200 Mission street here.

O'Neill told police that in order to avoid hitting a truck he was forced to head into the wall.

Democrats Central Committee Meet Here

The San Mateo County democratic central committee will convene in Daly City hall October 27 for an important pre-convention session.

Topping the agenda includes discussion on rules and regulations for the convention to be held in February for naming candidates to the June primaries.

The special election for the 25th assembly district will also be a topic.

Mel Cohn, county chairman, will head the meeting.

DOG LEASH LAW FINDS FRIENDS, FOES AT DC COUNCIL HEARING

"Some dogs are cleaner than people," an irate little lady told the council Monday night during the tempest that occurred in a hearing over the proposed dog-leash ordinance.

Mrs. Johanna Quessy, 319 Irvington, Daly City's most staunch supporter of man's best friend, said, "If people would feed the dogs, they'd be all right. They're a lot cleaner than some human beings and they're our best friends."

Her oratory followed comments by a proponent of the dog leash ordinance, Mrs. Lydia Talbott, 244 Westlake avenue, who said that, "This cleaning up after dogs is a joke. What are we going to do about it? Are we going to stay in the horse and buggy days? I'm tired of cleaning up after dogs. The poundmaster tells people to keep their dogs off the street, but the next day the people turn them out again."

"On Constitutional"

Opening of the hearing saw Charles R. Garry, 482 Wellington, an attorney, term the proposed leash ordinance "inhuman, unwise and unconstitutional."

He said the ordinance was giving police powers that no one should have in that it allowed the poundmaster to enter a home to apprehend an animal.

He said punishment for violation of the proposed ordinance was far in excess of that provided for in state statues governing animals.

"For the council to enact a rash, harsh law, without trying the state laws already applicable is foolhardy and expensive," Garry stated.

City Attorney Frank Blum had a different opinion of the law. "It's constitutional. Yes, it sets up police powers for the poundmaster for dispensing the ordinance and says any dog running in the public streets shall be impounded. It also provides for licensing, fines and charges."

Cleanliness Idea

Answered Garry, "The only comments I have heard on this law are concentrated on the idea of cleanliness.

There's nothing in the ordinance that says an animal can't eliminate waste on public property."

He said the fact that a poundmaster could "barge into a home without a warrant is vicious, unconstitutional and not safeguarding the due process of law. If a dog is not hurting anybody let it walk the streets. Sanitation doesn't enter into it."

DC Mother Treated For Head Injuries

A 37-year-old local wife and mother was rushed to the hospital by police ambulance when she suffered head injuries early Saturday morning.

Treated at Junipero Serra hospital for a two-inch cut on the head was Mrs. Virginia Graves of 142 Abbot street.

Police responded to the home after they were called by Mrs. Graves' daughter at 2:45 a.m. The injured woman's husband told officers that his wife had just come home.

Officers listed cause of accident as a possible fall on the front stairs of the home.

Irate Parents Hit Double Sessions

asked about the public relations aspect of the drawn-out board meets.

"There were people here tonight who went home with a bad feeling about the board," Weibel insisted.

Discussion on double sessions and lack of school facilities preceeded the above argument.

First person to address the board from the audience was Mrs. Wesley Foster of 840 Washington street, Broadmoor. Mrs. Foster's daughter attends double sessions at the 87th Street school, which is under operation in the Broadmoor Community church.

"When my daughter goes to the restroom she has to knock on the door to see if there is a little boy in there," the irate mother told the board.

Mrs. Foster also vented her wrath on the Henry Doelger corporation for "misleading advertising."

The woman referred to an article in a San Francisco newspaper which she said implied that there were adequate school facilities in Westlake.

"Do you know any tract where there are adequate school facilities?" asked Chairman Callan.

Still another irate mother, Mrs. W. H. Beck of 431 - 89th street protested. Mrs. Beck declared that her child had been on double sessions for seven years.

She asked the board if they had any way of knowing before the huge tracts of homes were constructed.

No Cooperation

Callan replied that both the Daly City council and the Doelger corporation had been requested to supply such information to the district but that both had failed to do so. The chairman cited an instance whereby he and Architect Mario Ciampi had chanced to see foundations being built in Westlake and so took action to gain the Olympia school site.

Next question was from Quentin H. Fletcher of 66 Fairview avenue.

"I understand that the school board waited until January of this year to start plans for the Vista Mar site," he told the board.

Callan explained procedure under the state aid program.

State Aid

The red tape was further elaborated on today by the superintendent, who stated that until early this summer the state had required one project completed before the next one was begun. At the present time, however, the district can apply for as many schools as shown needed by a complicated priority point system. Weibel said that the district is waiting for Ciampi to complete plans for submittal to the state for approval on the Vista Grande and Vista Mar schools.

Architect Ciampi, who earlier in the evening had been asked to speed drawing of plans for the Vista Del Mar school, further explained his position.

"I'm actually speculating," he told the audience. "I shouldn't be drawing plans until the previous school is completed, however, I recognize the need for facilities," he continued.

"We must prove the need for facilities before we can gain state aid," Callan interjected.

The Doelger corporation again came under fire with Appleton's statement that "the Henry Doelger corporation is the cause of all our trouble."

"That's what you've been saying all along," remarked Richard H. Merritt, 78 Fairview avenue, "and we came up here to find out."

Other member of the three-man delegation from Fairview avenue, D. B. Peterson of 72 Fairview, was the next person to criticize the Westlake builder.

"Our children are too old by the time schools are built," he told the board.

Ciampi replied that residents have to "buy houses, have children and, therefore, create a desperate need before state aid is forthcoming."

The discussion on lack of facilities was closed with the board advising the group to form a citizens' committee to fight for more facilities.

basement so that their appearance wouldn't add to the grief of Mrs. Marcus.

Wednesday morning at 4:15 a.m. on the news of the child's recovery Dr. Irwin rushed to the basement and restored all the infant apparatus to the nursery room.

Mrs. Marcus spent Wednesday night in Mt. Zion hospital with the baby, where he was being examined. She wasn't sick, "but she wasn't going to leave that baby," her sister-in-law Sonia related.

Dr. Marcus, on moving to Daly City, had planned to take up a general surgery practice at the new Westlake medical building. He still plans to open offices here, but the ordeal of the past 10 days and the excitement of his son's return will probably delay the start of his practice.

Meanwhile, the alleged kidnaper, Betty Benedicto, 27-year-old wife of a Filipino newspaper editor, was still under psychiatric observation. She was booked on suspicion of kidnapping and is scheduled to appear before the grand jury Monday for indictment on the charge.

streets," Bodien answered. "You read up and you'll see that Dan Andersen was in charge of the streets," the former city official retorted.

"Your Jurisdiction"

The mayor replied, "Brunswick was under your jurisdiction. You were in charge of the streets. I've answered your question. You did not protest the job. It was your duty as a paid employee to advise the council."

"You won't apologize?" asked Bodien.

"No," the mayor said decisively.

Bodien then told Verducci, "You'll hear from me later."

Earlier in the meeting a letter from Bodien was read, asked that the new political group be allowed to use the city hall for a meeting place on the first and third Wednesday of each month, starting at 8 p.m.

On motion of Councilman Micheal De Bernardi, who said the matter was a question of policy, a motion was passed to hold over decision on the group's request.

De Bernardi said the council's decision "would effect every organization in Daly City." Motion to hold over was passed unanimously, although Councilman Edward Dennis said he would prefer to set a time limit on date for giving decision.

Other Action

In other action Monday, the council:

1. Heard from Bodien on need for health center site in this city. Bodien said the present county health center here was "a disgrace." He also called for the city to begin plans for the "importance" intersection at Market and Hillside. He said action on zoning the interesection would be taken by the county planning commission October 19. City Engineer Cyril F. Weiler said he had already been instructed by the local planning commission to prepare a brochure which will show the county why the city is interested in the unincorporated property.

2. Discussed and tabled proposed county food ordinance.

3. Promised cooperation to the Democratic central committeeman in a proposed program to improve the county's transportation facilties.

4. Referred to the building inspector a request by Edward Bocci to install 9' x 16" sign at corner of Westlake and Junipero Serra boulevard.

Double Parking

5. Appointed Councilmen Dennis and Sanford Vickers to head a committee which will study the double-parking problem on Mission street between Knowles and Wellington avenues.

6. Cancelled warrant dated June 13, 1955, for $900, issued in duplicate to Edwin Smith, former city engineer.

7. Applied for state gas tax funds for paving Hillside boulevard from Price street to Mission and for general maintenance. Estimate for the entire project was $41,000.

8. Authorized City Manager Howard Stites to attend civil defense conference in Sacramento October 13 and 14.

recreation and parks allocations to the entire budget is highest in the county."

Asked by Kalinin when citizens could hope for completion of the building, Verducci said it was the council's intention to finish the downstairs this year, and to allocate an equal amount of money the following year for the upper portion.

Dog Leash Law

"Destroys Property"

Blum replied, "The very act of defecation destroys property. Search and seizure is a permissive right and we can't possibly do away with the constitution."

"If people love their animals, they wouldn't let them run the streets," said Councilman Sanford Vickers.

Councilman Edward Dennis chimed in, telling Garry, "You are not looking out for the dogs by letting them run the streets."

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi said the dog-leash law already had the backing of the pedigreed dog owners group in Daly City.

Poundmaster Charles Maschinot dramatized his stand for the dog ordinance, by displaying a bandaged hand. Explaining that some 120 persons had been bitten by dogs since the first of the year, he said, "I'm the latest casualty." Maschinot was bitten by a pup he was trying to apprehend.

He also was of the opinion that the law would protect the animals.

The council closed the hearing. The ordinance will come up for introduction at the October 10 meeting.

Posting Letter Brings Trouble For DC Woman

A car driven by a local housewife, who stopped to mail a letter and put her foot on the gas pedal instead of the brake, damaged both another car and a parking meter here Friday night.

Cited for driving without due caution was Mrs. Theresa J. Beeson, 54, 472 Irvington street.

Mrs. Beeson told officers she stopped her car at Wellington avenue south of Irvington to mail a letter. When her foot inadvertently pressed down on the gas, she crashed into a parked car owned by Edward J. O'Connor, 20 Fredson court, San Francisco.

A BROCHURE SELLING THE CITY

In the very near future, every home in Daly City will receive a brochure singing the praises and giving statistics of Daly City.

This effort marks the most notable achievement to date of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, and they are to be lauded for their foresight in publicizing the wares of our community.

This printed instrument will prove invaluable in providing information for citizens and firms interested in locating in this city, and will be a convenience to all residents within the city.

When the Daly City Chamber of Commerce brochure hits the streets and mails, this city will have taken a large step ahead in the good publicity and promotion department.

SAFETY COUNCIL ASKS INCREASE IN DC POLICE FORCE

The Daly City police force should be increased by 11 men to reach a total of 43 officers, according to a recommendation in the Annual Inventory of Traffic Safety Activities prepared by the National Safety Council.

In preparing this year's budget, the city council just recently turned down Police Chief Roland Petrocchi's request to bring his department up to a total of 41 men, two under the number recommended by the Safety Council.

The recommendations specified that three of the 11 additional men should be assigned to traffic duties. Named as advisory group to the Safety Council in making both statements was the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

The entire safety report was discussed and analyzed by John C. Hall, district representative of the safety council, Monday at the council chambers in the city hall.

12 In Audience

A total of 12 persons were in the audience. Of the 12, five persons were city and police employees.

Ironically, Hall, using the report as a guide, explained to the small audience that lack of public participation in safety projects had lowered Daly City's "grade."

"The Daly City police deserve high commendation fo their leadership and the newspapers have a big share in this credit," the report stated. "It is hoped citizens will be brought into more active participation."

Daly City, which has not had a traffic death since November of 1951, ranked 122nd out of 467 cities to fall in the top third of the cities with the same population.

Recommendations

Other recommendations to improve the safety program include:

1. Formation of a civic group to study traffic needs.
2. One qualified school person be responsible for supervising the safety education program of each school system.
3. A student accident reporting system which records traffic accidents occurring at any time of day or night to all school or school-age children be installed.
4. Daly City adopt the use of the Uniform Traffic ticket and complaint as recommended by the American Bar association and the White House conference.
5. Pedestrians be held accountable for dangerous acts just as motorists are, by arrest and conviction for traffic law violations.
6. More effort be made to apprehend drinking drivers and convict them on specific intoxication charges.

More Sobriety Tests

7. Chemical tests for intoxication be expanded in use to cover all driver-intoxication suspects.

Present at the meeting were City Manager Howard Stites, City Engineer Cecil Weiler, Chief Petrocchi, Traffic Inspector Henry Sundermann, Officer Ricco Benedetti, Chamber of Commerce Member and Insurance Agents Association President Pete Markovich, Lion Mel Battye, Municipal Court Judge Thomas L. Bocci, Court Clerk Richard Liberty, Jefferson Union High School District representative Glenn South, Chamber of Commerce President and Rotarian Jack Kendree and Councilman Del Wilson.

DC MAN INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY BLACKJACK IN SF

A 39-year-old local man who suffered head injuries when struck by a blackjack was taken to Junipero Serra hospital by Daly City police early Saturday morning.

Injured was Frank F. Garcia, 49 Abbott street. Officers spotted Garcia, with his head cut and bleeding, at a Mission street restaurant at 2:45 a.m.

The injury report listed Garcia as "uncooperative" and stated that he refused to give the name of the tavern where he was injured.

According to the report, Garcia admitted that he had been hit with a blackjack by a man outside of a San Francisco bar. Garcia told officers that he had bought drinks for the man and two women at the bar, and when he got up to leave the man demanded money. Garcia said that when he refused, the man struck him with the blackjack.

He related that he then got on a bus and came out to Daly City where he was seen by the police officers.

Garcia was given six stitches for a two-inch cut near his right eye and taken home.

Carpenter Denies Petty Theft Count On Check Writing

Glen Kenison, 25-year-old carpenter of 551 Vista Grande avenue, entered a plea of not guilty in municipal court Tuesday to charges that he had passed a bad check at the Town and Country Market, 395 South Mayfair. He is technically charged with petty theft.

Complainant Vincent Nevolo, proprietor of the market, claims that on July 16 and 25 Kenison passed two checks totalling $39.14 for which there were no funds in the bank.

Kenison's trial was set for October 25, 9:30 a.m.

In other municipal court action Tuesday, Charles Adams, 188 Flournoy, pleaded guilty to drunk driving in Daly City on September 17 and paid a fine of $150.

Branson Barnes, 1874 Donner, San Francisco, entered plea of guilty to charge that he was drunk in front of an establishment at 6288 Mission street September 22. He was fined $25.

$1000 Dogs Theft Is Only Joke Of Friend

The reported theft of two dogs valued at $1000 from a parked car here Saturday night was only a joke, Daly City police learned the following day.

Owner of the two American pit terriers, Robert Pilgrim, a mechanic of 127 Rio Verde street, Bayshore City, told police that he left the dogs alone in his car on Mission and Rice streets from 9 p.m. to 12:45 a.m. Saturday night.

When he returned to the car, the dogs were missing, Pilgrim said. The frantic dog owner immediately contacted police and posted a $100 reward for the return of the dogs.

Early the following afternoon, Pilgrim's wife phoned police to report that the disappearance of the animals had been the "joke of a friend."

DICK McSMEAR lithograph is displayed by Broadmoor artist Victor Arnautoff. Since nationwide publicity on art work, which was banned at SF Art Festival, Arnautoff has received several orders for re-prints, including one from Marion Kent, former chairman of the San Mateo county democratic central committee.

Broadmoor Artist Relates Story Of "Dick McSmear" Lithograph

When Vice President Richard M. Nixon appeared before a San Mateo rally in 1954 a member of the audience was removed from the gathering for remarks directed to the executive.

This incident was the fuse that touched off in the mind of Broadmoor artist Victor Arnautoff the idea for his caricature of Nixon in a controversial color lithograph entitled, "Dick McSmear."

The impact of this political cartoon, Arnautoff's first, resounded throughout the United States, when the work of art was banned from the San Francisco Art Festival the day after it went on display.

The president of the art commission said the picture was removed from the display because "public figures should not be caricatured in a publically financed art exhibition."

Makes Wire Services

Metropolitan newspapers first carried the story of the "suppression" of Arnautoff's lithograph, and the major wire services followed suit, filing the story to all points of the country.

As a result, Arnautoff, a professor of fine art at Stanford University, had his work, entered for $25, on display before an audience estimated at 25,000,000 people, via the newspapers.

What did the quiet, 59-year-old professor have to say about it all?

Ironically, when a RECORD reporter dropped in, Arnautoff was painting — not a work of art, but the interior of his home at 1007 Washington, Broadmoor, where he lives with his wife and one of his three sons.

Speaking with a trace of accent, particular to his birthplace, in the Ukraine in south Russia, Arnautoff told of his academic background. He studied at California School of Fine Arts, San Francisco, from 1925-29. On graduation, he took up private teaching and in 1938 became a member of the staff at Stanford. Throughout this time he has painted and worked in other mediums, partially to augment his income, but more for expression and practice.

"Surprised"

"I was surprised," Arnautoff said, in answer to his reaction when the picture was removed from the festival. "I knew it was a political cartoon and expected some sour faces, but I didn't realize there'd be such a commotion."

For Arnautoff, who has had entries in the Art Festival every year since 1939, when he helped initiate the Festival, this was his first venture into the field of political cartooning.

Nearly a year ago Arnautoff had mulled over the idea of the Nixon cartoon, having strong feelings about the "McCarthy" type tactics used in the Alger Hiss Case. When the spectator was ejected from a rally at which Nixon was speaking, the artist's conception of the picture took a more tangible shape.

Working off and on, between classes, Arnautoff completed the lithograph in about six months. He entered it, along with another color lithograph and one drawing, in the Art Festival as a matter of routine, placing a $25 price tag on the "McSmear" work.

"Follow Politics"

Arnautoff, when asked about his political interests, said, "I follow politics, but don't take active part in them." He was formerly registered as an Independent-Progressive, but since has switched to the Democratic party.

Since the nation-wide publicity on his work, Arnautoff has received two orders from the East for prints of his Nixon satire. They'll go for the original price of $25 each.

Marion Kent, former chairman of the San Mateo county Democratic central committee, disclosed Friday that he had purchased one of the prints from Arnautoff, but would not state the price he paid for it. Kent said he would use the lithograph for fund-raising purposes in the Democratic party in San Mateo.

Earlier the Wisconsin Young Democrats said they would like to buy the McSmear" picture to be sold at auction, but notified Arnautoff by telegram last week that they were cancelling the order. No reason was given.

When Arnautoff's conversation was directed back to the actual banning of his picture, he said, "It happened in a strange way. Mr. Zellerbach ordered that it be removed after a phone call from the FBI.

"I can't understand that. The FBI is not created for political censorship."

"A Smart Move"

Asked for a comment about Nixon's subsequent telegraph to Zellerbach, which said Arnautoff had every right to criticize him in his cartoon, the professor observed, "He's only giving me a right that I already have. It was a pretty smart move on his part."

While defending Arnautoff's right to comment through his art, Nixon had qualified the remark by stating that most people probably didn't agree with the artist's sentiments in the Hiss case.

As to his "school" of painting, Arnautoff considers himself a realist. "I don't like abstraction. I like to communicate to people. Every expression has friends as well as opponents."

Right now he doesn't know if he'll do any more political satires. "If something provokes my thinking I might," he revealed.

"Right now I'm busy with my house painting," he said, smiling.

His son, Jacob, a student at California School of Fine Arts, was helping him with the domestic painting job.

Sons See Action

Jacob served three years in the service during the Korean War, while Arnautoff's other two sons both saw combat in the European campaign of World War II.

Mrs. Arnautoff is a bookkeeper in San Francisco. A resident of Broadmoor nearly five years, Arnautoff explained he moved there because it was centrally accessible to his and his wife's jobs.

Arnautoff's highly publicized art work has not disturbed the peace of the suburban neighborhood where Arnautoff lives, but two "hecklers" have threatened the artist to date. A post-card and a midnight phone call to the Arnautoff home were the only signs of overt action against the artist.

But he says he's received dozens of laudatory letters on the "McSmear" creation.

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

Cops hastened to Crestwood drive Wednesday on report of a resident who said the city water meterman was walking down the street, brandishing a lengthy knife and talking to himself.

The "knife" turned out to be the water meter cover lifter, and the man's "mumbling" . . . well, the meterman repeats the numbers on the meter to himself so he won't forget them before he writes them down.

Muni Judge TOM BOCCI JR. and the city of South San Francisco, where Bocci's court is located, have been rhubarbing over the decor of the council chambers.

Bocci said that maps posted in the chamber for the council meetings should be taken down before court opens each day.

And he says if this ruling is not complied with, he may haul the councilmen in on a contempt charge.

SSF, however, takes Bocci's claims with less-than awe. The city attorney maintains that the city is Bocci's "landlord."

To the rescue is the city's mayor, who says "study" can straighten the situation out.

At last report, however, the maps were down and the "Walls have come clean," as a court attache phrased it.

An observation by a former councilman on the vigorous oratory at recent council sessions was that, "It appears the reformers are out to reform the reformers."

CHARLEY, the poundman, MASCHINOT, had the troubles this week. He started off the week by feeding part of his hand to a cantankerous pup.

His miseries were compounded when he was informed that, due to an error in the budget, there was no money left for his department. As of Tuesday, he had 25 pounds of dog food left, about enough for one day. On same day he had a requisition in to purchase a length of ordinary garden hose to swab out the pound, but there wasn't even enough loose change on hand in his department to finance this.

KOVR TELECASTS FROM SAN FRANCISCO . . . With the very glamorous address of 1 Nob Hill circle, KOVR, Channel 13, last week originated its first telecast from spacious new San Francisco studios located in the Mark Hopkins hotel. In order to learn what is in store for bay area audiences in the way of new "live" programs and also to partly satisfy a sentimental interest because we spent three exciting years in this very same building when it was first completed as a member of the staff of KSFO and KWID, we decided to visit the studios. As we climbed the familiar steps leading to the attractive lobby with its wall of glass and panorama view of the San Francisco skyline, we were delighted to see the bustle of activity all around. Just a few months ago when we happened by, the upper area of this beautiful building was standing empty.

"Cook's Tour"

Under the able guidance of Gordon Grannis, KOVR's publicity manager and Daly City resident, we were given a "cook's tour" of the premises which have been extensively remodeled. We visited first the large studio which has been freshly painted, new klieg lights installed and contains new technical equipment including a new pre-set lighting control board, with which merely by the flick of a switch various degrees of light could be directed to different parts of the room. Three cameras will be available for live shows . . . two in the studios and one will be kept in their large remote control truck which wil be used for remote telecasts around the bay area. There is a small announcer's booth on the same floor while overhead is the glassed-in control room and sponsor's booth. Returning to the lobby, we were shown atractive offices and a conference room which will house KOVR's San Francisco staff.

With the first week of San Francisco telecasts, KOVR also lengthens the broadcasting day with sign-on time at 3 p.m. in the afternoon daily. Continuing their policy of emphasis on sports programs, two new programs include "San Francisco Wrestling," from Winterland with commentary by Bob Fouts, and films of Stanford and California games with commentary by Don Klein. Also scheduled is a live telecast from the San Francisco Press club, 11 new half-hour film productions and two new hour features.

We believe the advent of these studios opens up a new era in San Francisco television. With the wealth of material and talent available in every field—cultural . . . educational . . . entertainment—there remains the potential for additional San Francisco shows by which we believe KOVR will as General Manager Terry Lee stated, "capture the spirit of San Francisco and the bay area."

Kiddies Corner

Last week we watched a new live children's series "Junior Workshop" (KQED, Mondays and Tuesdays, 5 p.m. and we feel the program has great potentiality because it will further channel nine's aim of "making doers out of viewers." On Monday, Verla Leonard, art supervisor of the Vallejo Unified school district, assisted by school children introduced "puppet-making" to the juvenile audience. The children put on a puppet show using their own puppets. Following the dramatic presentation, each child explained and demonstrated a step in making a puppet.

Next week Miss Leonard will teach the children in the viewing audience how to make their own puppets . . . and in case you missed the program we suggest you be ready in front of your television set with the following equipment: Paints, light cardboard, paper towels, newspapers, scissors, string, and a damp cloth.

We are delighted that KQED is taking the initiative with this program to stimulate children to use their imaginations in creating something of their own.

FIRST COLORED FOOTBALL TELECAST . . . We were in Atlanta, Georgia, at the Miami-Georgia Tech football game . . . well, not actually, but we almost felt that we were as we sat in the spacious KRON studios last Saturday and watched NBC's first colored football telecast over a large clear 21 inch colored RCA television set.

Color does add a great deal to a football game . . . it is possible to distinguish the players more readily because of the contrasting uniforms . . . the referee's hand signals were easier to follow . . . the bright outfits of the band on a field of green was impressive. As we watched the bright blue drum majorettes . . . the red, white and blue of our country's flag being raised in front of a background of green trees . . . we could not help but feel that today we were a part of a historical moment which someday will be just a routine part of our lives . . . colored telecasting of football games.

"Live Indians"

"LIVE" INDIANS ON BUCKSKIN BOB TELECAST . . . Eleven little live Indians, dressed in colorful Indian outfits . . . with YMCA Indian Guide emblems on their sleeves and the symbol of their tribe, the magestic Sequoia tree stenciled on back of their costume . . . were guests on the Buckskin Bob program over KQED last Thursday afternoon. The boys who are members of the Golden West YMCA Indian Guide program included: Tommy Jenkins, Chris Cain, Robbie and Joey Fernekes, Danny Kerr and Ronny and Larry Baker, all of Broadmoor, and from San Francsco, Grant Ewald and Ronald Warden.

KQED VIEWERS COUNCIL TO MEET . . . Tuesday evening, October 4, at 8 p.m. is the date for the next meeting of the KQED Viewers Council. Representatives from various districts around the bay will attend including Northern San Mateo county members, Mesdames Robert Buchanan, Jos. Elliott, Bernard Mayville, and C. R. Garry. Anyone in this area who is interested in joining the Council is urged to telephone Mrs. Mayville at PLaza 5-0237. The KQED Viewers Council was granted recognition as an official agency of the station last week by KQED's Board of Directors.

PURSE SNATCH NETS BOY ROBBER ONLY $2

A young thief who robbed a Daly City woman of her purse Monday night got only $2, for his trouble.

Victim of the theft was Mrs. Enid Renfro, 49, 301 Santa Barbara avenue. Mrs. Renfro told police that she was walking west on Knowles avenue at 9:40 p.m. when she heard footsteps behind her and then the boy grabbed for the purse. After a slight scuffle the youth escaped with her coin purse.

Mrs. Renfro described the rubber as about 17 years old and a Negro.

Two Sets Of Golf Clubs Are Stolen From Lake Merced Course

Two sets of golf clubs were reported stolen this week at the Lake merced Golf and Country club on Junipero Serra boulevard.

First victim was Brad Liebman, 105 Redwood drive, Hillsborough, who told Golf-Pro Pat Mahoney that he left his clubs in front of the pro shop on Sunday, September 18. When he reported for a golf game the following Sunday, his clubs were missing.

The set is valued at $240, according to the police report.

The other set of clubs was stolen Thursday from Dave Austin, a guest at the club from Toronto, Canada. Austin also left his clubs in front of the pro shop. The Canadian reported that his clubs are worth $250.

Blame Hit-Run Auto For Injury To Man, 72 At Intersection Here

A "confused" 72-year-old Burlingame man was found lying on the traffic island at the Junipero Serra-Knowles intersection Wednesday night at midnight. His head was cut and bleeding, and officers assume that he had been struck by a hit-and-run car.

The injured man who was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital, was later identified as George Riddle, 1604 Sanchez street, Burlingame. Riddle had been reported missing to Burlingame police by his wife Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Riddle told Burlingame officers that her husband left their home at 7 a.m. that morning. At press time no one had yet explained how Riddle reached Daly City from Burlingame.

Junipero Serra hospital attendants said that Riddle suffered a factured wrist and cuts and bruises. They added that he had been "confused" upon his arrival at the hospital.

Boys Create Havoc In Two Local Firms

Four small Woodrow Wilson school boys, ages ranging from seven to nine years, were picked up by police Sunday after two local companies filed reports of vandalism on their grounds.

First damage, admitted to by three of the youngsters, occurred on property owned by the Pacific Coast Aggregates company, 2293 Junipero Serra boulevard.

Destruction included ransacking the office, breaking an office window, breaking windows in two trucks and stealing about $6 from the Coca Cola machine.

Police said that they also found office stationary and burnt matches littered on the floor and that the youngsters apparently had tried to start a fire.

The boys evidently broke into the building early Saturday evening as the electric job timer cord had been pulled by one of them and showed "6:59 p.m."

The breakin was discovered by Sergeant August Benassini and Officer Gerald Schaeffer at 9:25 p.m. while on patrol.

The boys were caught the following day at 12:30 p.m. at the Doelger Mill. Before being apprehended, they managed to create havoc by throwing rocks and breaking windows in trucks and smearing oil and grease over the premises.

Officers said that the youngsters also admitted to trying to drive one of the pickups and to rifling glove compartments in the trucks. The three older boys said they had done the damage at the Pacific Aggregate company and that they had broken into the Doelger company on previous occasions.

Information of the youngsters' deeds was relayed to juvenile authorities, and the boys were released to the custody of their parents.

JUDGE REVIEWS TRANSCRIPT IN FIRED COP CASE

A ruling on whether or not the council's firing of Dave Johnstone as Daly City police inspector was substantiated by the evidence will be made within 83 days by Superior Court Judge Edmund Scott.

The city was called into Scott's court Thursday on writ filed on Johnstone's behalf by Attorney John J. Fahey Jr., who demanded that the officer be re-instated to his job with full back pay since date of dismissal May 23.

Scott took the case under submission, pending his review of the 388 pages of transcripts compiled at three hearings of the Daly City civil service board of review.

Scott said at that time he would rule on Johnstone's petition for a writ of mandate in less than the 90 days called for by law.

No further testimony was allowed at Thursday's session, although Fahey and City Attorney Frank Blum conferred with Scott prior to the brief hearing.

On the bench, Judge Scott asked if it would be stipulated by counsel that, "under the city ordinance the city council has the right to overrule the findings of the board of review."

On request of Fahey, Judge Scott substituted the phrase "power—in the proper case" for the word "right" and both attorneys agreed to the wording.

"It is only necessary to find if there is substantial evidence in the transcript to support the action of the council, the judge said.

Johnstone was dismissed on May 23 for allegedly associating with known gamblers and failing to report all investigations to his superior officers, and other charges said to be violations of police rules and regulations.

After three lengthy hearings, the local board of review found Johnstone innocent on all counts, and made this recommendation to the council, but the council upheld their original decision to dismiss the inspector.

Colma Principal Is Introduced To PTA

Bernard Gerdes, new Colma school prnicipal, was welcomed by the Hillside PTA at their meeting last week.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

An antique tablecloth from Spain, an 11-year-old girl's ideas about grownups, and a congenial group of people were all part of the reception for the teachers held at the Broadmoor Presbyterian church a while back. The tablecloth, belonging to Jean Nourse, graced the refreshment table, and a beautiful thing it was, too. Jean, with Norma Neill, co-hostessed the event, which was sponsored by the church session. The ideas of the 11 year old girl were read from "A Handy Guide To Grownups" by Dr. Mayo Bryce, who also read excerpts from a book of kindergarten children's definitions. These books are musts for parents—children have a disconcerting way of hitting several awkward nails on the head! Dr. Bryce also read the chapter on teaching from Kahlil Gibran's "The Prophet," a spiritually valuable book familiar book familiar to many of our Villagers.

Who was there? Well, we saw Miss Aileen Suber, principal of GV School, and Mrs. Emma Lockwood, Mrs. Carrie Schneider, Miss Ruth Campbell and Mrs. Melanie Fernekes, who struggle yearly with our assorted young ones. Jean Landess, Olive Smith, Ruth Jones, Frank Dethlefsen and Marion Lamson exchanged small talk with Dorothy Swoverland, Kay Mullen, Corrine Bryce, Ken Warren and Ray Logan. The Harold Holmans, John LePines, Rex Spruiells, George Irvines, Gordon Greggs and Ken Gillespies were some of the family groups taking time out before going home to usual Sunday chores, together with the Glenn Souths and the Henry Krauses. Delmar Severy, church organist, was there and of course the Rev. and Mrs. John Glasse. There was a very lovely contingent from the young people's group also—namely, Edyth Mullen, Martha Whitehouse, Karen Kraus, Barbara Amirkhan and Lynn Painter. If we missed mentioning anybody, our apologies, but did you ever try juggling coffee, cookies, AND a pad and pencil?

Midway has lost a member of its elite. The Gordon Stewarts have moved to Sacramento, with daughters Audrey and Joan very sorry to leave all their friends. Reason for departure? Business transfer, the moving reason for so many Villagers.

Best news of the week: Martin Rist is up and about in his wheelchair, and feeling better after so long a time of illness. Together with many other people, we're happy about this item.

Tupperware parties are infiltrating Garden Village, according to latest reports. Lucy Dal Porto gave one recently, and trekking to her Village Lane home were Louise Hixson, Mary Ann Freiberg, Ray Spencer and Hope Juhl. Friends from San Francisco who came to hear dealer Helen Zylker expound the worthy qualities of this product were Pauline Dal Porto, Amelai La Torre, Nancy De Biagio, Lena Friscia, Dorothy Revelli and Pauline Ahnemann.

Visiting firemen of the week were Madeline Feist's sister and family—Mr. and Mrs. Victor T. Vincent and son Allen. Former residents of San Francisco, they just had to come back and check on things from the vantage point of Sweetwood drive before returning to Boise, Idaho.

Speaking of Sweetwood drive (east of Washington this time), there was a circus there not so long ago. That is, a circus birthday party for Collie Orton, age 5. The Merry-go-round cake fell victim to the appetites of guests Ernie and Nancy da Rosa, Coleen Woolsey, Joey Sigler, Lynn Beckett, Bobby Plant, Perky Gillespie and young Timmy Orton. We imagine that mother Dorothy was going around in circles, too, by the time it was all over!

The busiest people, etc.: Not being busy enough, George and Eunice Irvine are currently engaged in building a family summer home in Cedar Rapids, up near Placerville. A building expedition leaves the Irvine residence on Garden Lane on any and every weekend free and available for work on The Project. More power to them, say we.

The international flavor for V Notes this week is being provided by Ken Gillespie, one of Gilman's finest. He spent three days in Santa Fe, New Mexico, at the international convention of the 20-30 Clubs, where he was named resolutions chairman of the gathering. In case you didn't know, the 20-30 Club is a civic service group for men aged 20 to 35. Delegates from Guam, Mexico, Central America and Canada were there also, Ken reported, and it was a very interesting affair. In spite of having to take three different airlines and spend a night in Albuquerque en route to get there, Ken came back charmed by Santa Fe in general.

Anybody go to see "Der Rosenkavalier"? If you did, and you took particular notice of the orchestra on the stage, that gentleman in the pink coat and white wig playing oboe was, of course, Ray Duste. And while we're on the subject of music, that swishing noise you might have heard anywhere between the Opera House and the park on a certain Sunday was only Walter Subke, flutist extraordinaire, dashing madly to be on time for the band concert! Washington street knows these gentlemen well!

The schoolmarm awarded prizes to good pupils and knuckle-raps to bad ones at the back-to-school party of the Windjammer Mariners group. Everybody came to our house for this one, and the next day was spent in sweeping up small wads of paper scattered wholesale by "Clarabelle" Logan, "Idabelle" Lakers and "Chauncey" Blackstone! Lois Blackstone played Teacher, and George and Helen Reich (who are now living in the east bay), Ian and Doris Kay, Don Mitchell, Kay Logan and Betty Lakers completed the classroom roll of pupils present.

Note for the family bulletin board: School board meetings are held on the 4th Wednesday of each month, and everyone is welcome to attend. Mark it down and bring your friends and neighbors.

What do Scott Bjorkquist (Louvaine), Nicky Coppola (88th Street), Pat Meade (Maddux) and Barbara Brandt (ex-washingtonite) have coming in common this week? Clue: It's the 5th for Scott, 12th for Nicky, 1st for Pat and (?) for Barbara. Give up? Happy Birthday wishes, that's what!

Saw Dr. Bob Terry (Washington Street) in the drugstore recently, with that Proud Father look on his face. The reason is Carol Ann, 7 lb., 12 oz. latest small Terry for Shirley to mother. Mary Catherine, Kevin, Christine and Mark thinks she's the greatest, too.

Trip tickets: Round trip to Reno for Cleon and Sam Cheskey for a weekend, while son Tommy took the southern route to San Jose. . . . Scenic route for Al and Nicky Discol, accompanied by Nancy and Danny, to Los Angeles for a business-vacation journey. They visited Nicky's brother and family—the Cloyd Padons — in Palos Verdes, and took tourist side trips to Marineland and Disneyland. Trained dolphins and the jungle river boat ride were the main attractions respectively. There was a delay en route on the way home at Boulder Dam and Las Vegas for sightseeing.

Speaking of traveling, things were humming up on Stoneyford while Kay Mullen was getting ready to go to Sacramento for the governor's conference on education. She was one of the 3,000 people in the state who received invitations to attend, which is rather an honor; 3000 people aren't many considering California's total population. 'Ray for Kay!

Of all the many kindergartners around town, none was happier than Marilyn Mattson, just turned five. She had a most wonderful birthday part, with 16 guests fitting nicely into the Mattson home on Midway. Linda Fish, Becky Locke, Terry and Cindy Travinsky, Larry Schmidt, Carla Larsen, Tommy Crofton, Billy Abbott, Alec, Dennis and Brian Mattson (cousins), Janice and Christine Gallagher, Roxanne Reyes, sister Karen and brother Rodger Mattson kept mother Kay pretty busy there for a while!

Like most Villagers, we think our community is a pretty nice one, with neighbors being just about the most neighborly anyone could be, and it's kind of bothering when we hear that some families have been troubled by having their gardens used as freeways for short cuts, and other have had to clean up trash tossed on their property by children in other yards. Good neighbors are wonderful things to have, and to risk losing them just isn't worth it.

This week's get-well wishes go to Herb Hopkins of Gambetta street, who underwent an emergency appendectomy in Lake county, to Gilman's Helen Whitehouse, who took a little time out from things for a rest in St. Luke's hospital, and to young Michael MacCarthy of Sweetwood, who had to have an operation on his foot. And to anyone else who is not quite feeling up to snuff, here's hoping it doesn't last long, and that things will be looking up for you as soon as possible.

How many of us spent a half-and-half vacation this summer? Hal away and half home fixing up the house? Sylvia and Michael Florio did. Accompanied by son Gregory, they had a wonderful week in Santa Cruz, particularly enjoying swimming in the heated plunge. The second week was be-kind-to-the-house time, with paint brushes and things going at a great rate in the Florios' particular section of Sweetwood drive!

The commute from here to Vallejo and back each day has proved too much for Clark Bird, so he and Alyce are moving their family to Napa shortly. They just got back from a trip to De Sabla, the PG&E camp up in the mother lode country, complete with a housekeeping cabin to be at home in and the Feather River and a pool to swim in. Young son Gary had a high old time satisfying his 3 year old curiosity and sense of adventure! After 8 years on Sweetwood as one of the oldest families here, the Birds hate to leave, and there are a lot of us who are sorry to see them go.

COLUMBUS DAY queen candidates pose with Italian-American Citizens club committeemen as date for first annual county-wide celebration, October 8 and 9, nears. Debbie Hyers, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hyers, 744 County road, Sharp Park, was crowned "Bacchus," goddess of wine, at the Baccari's 15th Annual Vintage Festival held Friday in the rotunda at San Francisco city hall.

Weibel "Target" As James Snell PTA Holds Initial Meet

H. Z. Weibel, Jefferson Elementary School district superintendent, was "target" for the evening when the James L. Snell PTA met last week at Garden Village school.

Weibel was bombarded by parents with questions concerning double sessions, lack of school housing and similar problems now facing the board of trustees.

The Snell executive board announced the unit's first project, a get-acquainted dance to be held this Friday at Broadmoor community center starting at 9 p.m. Admission is $1 per couple.

Principals Marjorie Tobias, Benjamin Franklin school, Aileen E. Suber, Garden Village, and Eleanor Zenovich of 87th street were introduced by President Thomas M. Jenkins.

DC Traffic Inspector Explains Citations; Asks Motorists Help

Proper parking was called for this week in a plea by Henry Sundermann, Daly City traffic inspector.

He pointed out that in the past month, hundreds of car owners have been cited for parking on the wrong side of the street and for failure to block their autos properly against the curb on hills. The first is an infraction of the state vehicle code, the second a violation of a city ordinance.

Sundermann said reason for enforcing these laws is to eliminate auto accidents. He said many auto mishaps have proved on investigation to have been caused by these two infractions.

The wedding took place on September 17. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Pereira of 335 Hillside boulevard, and the groom is from Celina, Ohio. The couple will live in San Francisco following a Carmel honeymoon.

MISS PEREIRA MARRIES ROBERT L. GILLILAND

The marriage of Miss Eloise Bernadette Pereira, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Pereira of 335 Hillside boulevard, to Mr. Robert L. Gilliland of Celina, Ohio, took place on the afternoon of Saturday, September 17, at Star of the Sea Catholic church in San Francisco.

The bride wore a gown of white satin overflowing with tulle, fashioned by her grandmother. The bodice and tunic were of white shadow lace. Her bouquet was made up of a single white Cattalaya, attached to the prayer book used at her First Communion in Honolulu. Streamers of lily-of-the-valley on white satin ribbon completed the bouquet.

She was attended by Miss Arleen Trendel of Cleveland, Ohio, as maid of honor, and Miss Adrienne Pereira, her cousin.

A reception and garden buffet were held after the ceremony at the home of her parents. More than 100 persons attended.

The bride is with the Pacific Telephone company on the West Coast, and the groom is with the Ohio Telephone company in the East.

He has a year to serve with the United States Marine Corps at Hunters Point, Calif.

The couple will make their home in San Francisco after their Carmel honeymoon.

Crocker-Pershing PTA Executives Plan Safety Patrol

Plans for establishment of a safety patrol for General Pershing and Crocker school was the main business on hand at the executive board meeting of the Crocker-Pershing PTA held on Tuesday at General Pershing school.

Both school principals, Mrs. Eleanor Zenovich and Don Pagani, had requested the patrol and it has been approved by the Daly City police department. The recommendation was made that the PTA purchase complete outfits for the patrol, to be made up of fifth and sixth graders, and set aside a fund for financing it.

Certificates were presented to the following 17 members for completion of a parent-teacher information course held at General Pershing last term under direction of Mrs. Fred Kruse: Mrs. Gene Schmale, Mrs. Lyal Ingersoll, Mrs. C. Allen Carpenter, Mrs. Kenneth Lien, Mrs. Fred Matthews, Mrs. R. Sommer, Mrs. Richard Soria, Mrs. J. White, Mrs. Herbert Meneken, Mrs. Charles Munday, Mrs. J. Pennington, Al Carpenter, Mrs. Robt. Hennig, Mrs. C. Mattison, Ed Grant, Mrs. John Eckert and Mrs. John Eason.

The program for the coming months was outlined by program chairman Mrs. Carpenter. The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, October 11, 8 p.m. at Crocker school. "Getting to Know You" is the theme of the evening.

Ways and means chairman Mrs. Richard Soria reported on plans for projects throughout the term. Two hot dogs sales, a fashion festival and a salvage drive are scheduled.

$2300 NEED FOR NORTHGATE VOTE

The movement for incorporation of Northgate as a sixth class city faced a momentary block this week as the county board of supervisors asked that $2300 be collected by the incorporation backers to cover cost of the election and publication of legal notices.

The supervisors yesterday received report of the county clerk and assessor's offices on the assessed valuation of the Broadmoor, Colma, Sterling Park area, and filed it for the record. The county clerk verified the signatures on the petition for incorporation and certified the petition for approval.

The proceedings will be delayed, however, until the incorporation group obtains $2300 to cover election costs, according to Bruning. When this amount is deposited with the county, the supervisors can then set date for public hearing, after which election date can be established.

Bruning said the election couldn't possibly be held until at least 70 days after the hearing, which will probably be set in about one month. This would place election in mid or late December.

Thomas Noonan, leader of the incorporation movement, said approximately $750 had been collected to date from "anonymous contributors." He said bulk of this money came from sizeable donations, and the donors were "not small home owners."

Noonan was confident remainder of the finances could be raised through a house-to-house canvass and by contacting the large property owners.

TRUSTEES WILL OPEN WESTMOOR HI BIDS NOV. 14

Bids for construction on Westmoor High school, to be built on Skyline boulevard near Edgemar road, will be called for today and opened on November 14, it was decided Monday night at the Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees meeting. Architect's estimate of the cost is $2,200,000.

Opening of bids was delayed until November 14 at the request of Architect Mario Ciampi. Bids on the Luther Burbank High school in San Francisco are being opened on November 2, and lower bids on the Westmoor school project may be obtained if conflict is avoided, according to Ciampi.

When asked by Mrs. Vivian Schember of Pacific Manor as to completion date, Ciampi replied that normal construction period is 14 months.

"It may be that classrooms can be completed first, however," the architect added.

"Back-To-Back"

Westmoor High school will be built of reinforced concrete and in a "back-to-back" plan, Ciampi said today. It will be finished in bright colors, although the architect declined to give specific color scheme.

The school will be constructed "without frills" and with "low cost and maintenance in mind," according to Ciampi.

Special features include a Little Theater, seating 275 persons, and a two-room arts and crafts section. The music pavillion will include a room for a band of 75 pieces, a room for an orchestra of 55 pieces, a choral room with a step-down floor and other miscellaneous rooms.

The school will provide one science, two homemaking rooms and a clothing lab, all with built-in equipment. Six classrooms will make up the commercial section.

Administrative

Administrative section will includes personnel offices and a teachers' conference room. There will be a mechanical drawing room and a number of units for teaching of language-arts and mathematics.

The vocational unit will provide an auto, metal and wood shop.

A total of 450 students may be accommodated in the cafeteria, and a teachers' lunchroom and students' snack bar also are planned.

The athletic department will include both a boys' and girls' gym, and the boys' gym will be convertible to an assembly hall.

Outside of the one-story school building will be provided parking facilities, two baseball fields, two utility play fields and a basketball court.

Also on the agenda of Monday night's meeting were:

1. Reports by three architects, Peter Kump, Falk & Booth and John Reid, who are being considered for the proposed coast high school. The board will meet Monday to discuss chosing an architect for the project.

Car Stolen At Show

An all-points bulletin was still out yesterday for recovery of a '52 model vehicle stolen from a parking place near the Serra Theater in Broadmoor Friday.

Carl Drye, 26 Adenwood, San Francisco, said he went into the show at 8:30 p.m., parking his auto on the south side of 91st street. When he returned at 11:45 p.m. the vehicle was gone.

Hillside PTA Drive

"Kick-off" for Hillside PTA membership drive will be held October 3, according to Fred Schweickhardt, PTA membership chairman.

Mrs. W. Bradshaw, co-chairman, will join Schweickhardt in working for 100 membership for the unit.

Episcopal Mission Sunday School Sees Large Enrollment

Attendance exceeded expectations at the first Sunday school session at St. Martin's Mission, Episcopal, 94 Palmdale avenue, this week, with about 50 children, 20 adults, and a staff of ten members on hand. Late registration may still be made with the Rev. Henry A. Dick, vicar, PL. 6-3514, but he requests that enrollments be completed as soon as possible to insure study course continuity.

Addition of this family service at 9:30 a.m. to the previously scheduled services of holy communion at 8 a.m. and morning prayer at 11 a.m. makes church facilities available to a larger proportion of the rapidly increasing Westlake population than was formerly possible. Parents are urged to make church attendance with their children a family project.

Classes are held for pre-school, primary, intermediate, junior high school, and adult age groups following a brief worship service conducted by the vicar, assisted by George A. Ritter, 53 Cliffside drive, organist.

Bishop Karl Morgan Block of the diocese of Northern California last week appointed a governing board for mission affairs. Meeting at the vicarage Tuesday evening were William J. Fitzpatrick, 642 Southgate avenue, warden; Mrs. Reuben H. Hunt, 11 Lake Meadow drive, secretary; Hubert W. Arthur, 82 Fairlawn avenue, treasurer; and Kenneth W. Brugge, 515 87th street, Mrs. Lauren S. Buel, Sharp Park; U. R. Kendree, 80 Montrose avenue; and D. R. Wainwright, 58 Cliffside drive, members. Improvement and maintenance of the vicarage chapel and plans for a permanent building were discussed.

WHAT'S DOING

School children visit "Telezonia"

If your youngsters should come home from school some day soon talking about a fabulous land of puppets, here's what it's all about. An entertaining color motion picture called "Adventure in Telezonia" is now available to the elementary schools in this area. The movie is part of a special kit we telephone people have worked out at the request of teachers and with their assistance.

We lend the kit to schools to help children learn how to use the telephone correctly. This is important. For the kind of telephone service you enjoy depends a lot on the way you and others use the phone. So the good telephone habits "Telezonia" is teaching school children will help make telephone service better and more useful for everyone. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Good idea to count to 10 so friends will have time to answer your calls

What's more disappointing than to hear your telephone ring a few times, then to find nobody on the line when you get there? Naturally, the caller wouldn't have hung up so soon if he had known his call would be answered. But sometimes we forget that our friends may be "tied up" when we call, and can't answer right away. So it's always a good idea to count 10 rings before hanging up on a call. Those extra few seconds may be just enough to let the other fellow get to the phone. Then neither of you will be disappointed. Of course, it's a big help, too, if you answer as soon as possible. Pacific Telephone.

JEFF GRIDDERS LAUNCH SEASON TODAY; TWO STARTERS AILING

Jefferson High school's chances in the season gridiron opener this Friday, September 30, against Serra at the local field hinges on the condition of two first string backs who were on the injury list all week.

Coach Joe McGrath has his fingers crossed for Tex Prentice and Ron O'Rourke, his regular half-backs in the hope they will be ready for the pigskin curtain-raiser at 3:15 p.m.

Prentice has been ailing with a bruised hip, while O'Rourke is suffering from a pulled leg muscle.

In the event neither regular back is fit by game time, Hal Funkhouser and Jerry Howard are being groomed to take over their jobs.

Need Linebacker

Where McGrath misses Prentice most, however, is not on the offensive side, but as linebacker on defense, where the veteran Prentice is not only tops but the only Jefferson man who appears to have enough moxy and agility to stop the tricky, fast running Serra backfield.

If Prentice doesn't play, either Roger Robinson or Steve Canty will have to try and fill his shoes in the defense chores, McGrath says.

Serra, undefeated in 15 games and boasting two wins behind them already this season, larrupped the Indian eleven, 32-0, last year. They are slight favorites today.

This year McGrath sizes up his own squad as a little more powerful than in '54 and feels the Serra club is probably weaker in the line. Where the parochial squad looks formidable to McGrath is in the backfield, with the likes of veterans Bob Biagi, Will Silverthorne and Allen Kirkes running like crazy, and letterman Sal Vial filling the air with his accurate passes.

Despite these prospects McGrath says, "We expect to win. In fact, if this was mid-season, I wouldn't hesitate to tell you how many points we'd beat them by."

Watch Honeywell

Leading the Indians attack today will be Jim Honeywell at quarterback, one of the league's top backs last year who is reported as looking even sharper this year.

At fullback will be junior Lee Casentini, a 168-pounder whose running is adequate and blocking superior.

Opening at the offensive end posts will be Ted Amirkhan and Jim Giblin, both good pass receivers. Starting tackles are Roger Robinson and Herman Kihs, while opening at guards will be John Monson and Bob Grubb. Don Wiesner will hold down the center spot.

Running will dominate Jefferson's game today McGrath says, but hastens to mention that his passing offensive is shaping up "very good," with Honeywell doing the firing.

McGrath will try to use his entire bench today to give the subs a chance to display any hidden talents.

Admission to today's game is $1, free for students with student body cards.

Flowers Club Wins Two From Ralph's To Hold Keg Lead

Bacci Rocchetta's high game of 234 and 556 series led the way for Paul's Flowers Tuesday at Brentwood as they pasted Ralph's Cleaners two games to maintain leadership in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league.

Paul's, in extending their wins to seven, against two losses, registered the evening's high team game 929, in whipping Ralph's, who came up with a respectable 916.

Larry Delucchi's 201 game, 534 series, and Stan Fogler's 505 series helped the Paul's compile the double win. Ed Bucher's 226 game, 540 series, was tops for Ralph's.

Vince & Fred's moved up the ladder into a tie for second on strength of their triple killing over San Pedro Lunch, led by Babe De Lucca's sizzling 623 series, high for the season. Vince Merlo and Nate Pearlman, with 516 and 520 series, respectively, added to the rout. Dell Fehl's 5?? series paced the losers.

Westlake homes shared second as they knocked over three from Thur Meat. Hank Amstutz, 502, and Dick Keefer 501 again paced the Westlakers. Dino Donati was the meatmen's high bowler, firing a 211 game, 524 trio.

Luce Meat got in on the three-way scramble for second as they vanquished DC Cleaners twice.

Vandals Make Wreck Of Unoccupied House

Vandals broke ten windows, tore up the kitchen linoleum and threw paper and trash on the floor at an unoccupied home at 372 Santa Barbara avenue sometime last weekend.

Police were informed of the damage by Mrs. L. Hensey, 118 Edna street, San Francisco, owner of the house. Officers said that the vandals apparently broke in by breaking a window in the rear of the unoccupied house.

They're On Their Way— Little Jeff Cagers Win 2

There's a new coach, but it looked like the same old story this week at Jefferson High as the two defending champion lightweight basketball teams handily disposed of their first two opponents in practice contests.

Under tutelage of Byron Van Alstyne, the 20s romped over Tamalpais last Thursday, 46-20, while the local 10s were having it easy in winning, 37-27.

The Jeff 20s, led by Leroy Franzoia's 18 points, played like master craftsmen. Some yardstick as to improvement was given by Franzoia, who last year as a 20s regular netted only 12 digits all season.

Al Dye was runner-up in scoring with 14, while he and Andy Ruelas displayed fine floor work and backboard control.

The 10s, though not as polished as their elder cage brothers, looked promising in whipping the Tamalpais gang by 10 points. The outcome was never in doubt, though Tamalpais did match the local five point-for-point in the third quarter, each getting eight tallies.

Freshman Ross Holmgren, graduate of Daly City's recreation leagues, lived up to advance notices by leading scoring with eight points. Center Wayne Lewis proved the floor general and managed to drop through six points and dominate the boards, despite his diminutive size.

Tuesday both Jefferson clubs came back equally as strong, subduing a pair of good Lincoln (of SF) squads and giving notice that they'll be shooting for their second straight pair of championships.

Despite Lincoln's 12-point second quarter rally, the Daly City 20s claimed an easy 38-25 victory.

Although the team spark plug Al Dye was dampened because of a cold, he managed to handle most of the rebounds and rack up eight points. Another Jeff hustler, Ino Patron, claimed high point honors with 12.

The 10s had more of a tussle, but won out, 31-26, aided by a 13-point fourth quarter. Again Lewis, the midget center, paced the local lightweights, controlling the backboards and notching 13 points.

This same losing Lincoln team claimed a victory over top-ranked San Mateo by a 10-point-margin.

Close Jeff Hi Pool Two Or Three Weeks

Scheduled opening of Jefferson High school swimming pool will be delayed from two to three weeks, Mike Orlich, athletic director, revealed today.

He said the pool was to have been opened for the public next Monday night, but that delay on shipment of locker equipment forced a postponement of the opening.

Since there aren't sufficient lockers to handle regular school gymnasium periods, the night school lockers are being utilized, Orlich explained. Until the additional gym class lockers arrive, the pool will have to be kept closed to the public, he said.

Cops Arrest Member Of "Horsey Set" On Drunk Charge At Restaurant

Officers arrested John S. Stubbs, retired, after receiving a complaint from Compton's restaurant at 391 South Mayfair avenue. Officers said they found Stubbs slumped over a table.

Golf Tips

By BILL McARTHUR

Professional, Treasure Island Driving Range

I Was Playing Good Till I Hit That Trap.

How often those words have been spoken. Not only by the 90 to 100 golfer, but by the better player as well. Lack of concentration is usually the source of trouble for the better player, while lack of knowledge being the source of trouble for the 90 to 100 golfer.

The fault:

High scorers or beginners most often try to scoop the ball out of the sand with the face closed. Consequently when they hit the sand with the face of the clubhead closed the sand will many times move further than the ball.

The correction:

First make sure that you have a good firm footing. Dig your feet into the sand in a position so that your feet are pointing slightly toward the hole with your left foot back a little. The ball should be in about the center of your stance. If the trap is close to the green you should pick a spot about two inches behind the ball. Lay the clubhead back so that the face is up. Swing the club back and pull down at the spot you have picked behind the ball. Keep your eye on the spot you have picked behind the ball, and follow through completely. Try to buffet the sand instead of digging into it. This can only be done by keeping the face open all the way through the swing.

Remember:

Look at the spot you have picked behind the ball. That is the place where the club will hit the sand. With the face closed naturally you will only come up with a lot of sand. With the face open you will succeed in buffeting the sand, and coming up under the ball as you follow through. In the case of wet sand your swing should be firm but fairly easy at the same time making a complete follow through. Dry powdery sand demands a firm hard swing also with a complete follow through. When attempting to get out of a trap further back in the fairway, make sure you use a club with enough loft. Sacrfice distance for loft. Hit the ball about ½ inch behind the ball. Again I must emphasize follow through.

Do not let your club touch the sand at anytime before you swing.
